TOTAL: 108 Parties

Notes:

Amendments to the IMSO Convention were adopted by the IMSO Assembly in September 2008. In accordance with Article 18 of the IMSO Convention, acceptance to the amendments is affected by the deposit of an instrument of acceptance with the Depository of the Convention, the Secretary-General of the International Maritime Organization (IMO). The amendments shall enter into force one hundred and twenty (120) days after the Depository has received notices of acceptance from two-thirds of those States which, at the time of their adoption by the IMSO Assembly, were Parties to the IMSO Convention. The amendments shall enter into force 120 days after the Secretary-General of IMO, as Depository, has received notices of acceptance from two thirds of those States which, at the time of adoption by the IMSO Assembly, were Parties to the Convention. The number of Parties to the Convention at the time of adoption of the amendments was 92 and therefore, the number of acceptances necessary for entry into force is 61.

* At present the Depository has received notices of acceptance from 19 Member States which, at the time of adoption by the IMSO Assembly, were Parties to the Convention.

- 1/ With a declaration/statement.
- 2/ The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland declared that the Convention shall apply to the Registers of British Ships registered in ports of register in the United Kingdom and, inter alia, in Bermuda.
- 3/ Date of signature of the Operating Agreement.
- 4/ Approval of the Convention and acceptance of the amendments by the Netherlands was declared to also apply to the Caribbean part of the Netherlands (the islands of Bonaire, Saint Eustatius and Saba) Aruba, Curaçao and Saint Maarten
- 5/ The Convention entered into force for the Federal Republic of Germany (FRG) on 23 October 1979 and for the German Democratic Republic (GDR) on 24 September 1986. On 3 October 1990, the GDR acceded to the FRG to form one sovereign State which remains the Party to the Convention under the designation "Germany".
- 6/ Formerly USSR
- 7/ Formerly Czechoslovakia
- 8/ By a note dated 17 June 1997, the Government of the People's Republic of China stated that, with effect from 1 July 1997, the Inmarsat Convention shall apply to the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region.
- 9/ The Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia became a Party to the Inmarsat Convention on 27 September 1990.

By an Instrument of Succession dated 19 February 2002, in conformity with international law and practice, the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, as a successor State to the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia, considers itself bound, as of April 27, 1992, i.e. the date on which the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia became an independent State, by the multilateral international treaties to which the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia was a Party on that date, including reservations and declarations to their provisions made earlier by the Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia. This instrument of succession applies to the Convention on the International Mobile Satellite Organization (formerly called the Convention on the International Maritime Satellite Organization (INMARSAT)), as amended. By Diplomatic Note dated 5 February 2003, IMSO was informed that the name of the State of the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia was changed on 4 February 2003 to Serbia and Montenegro.

- 10/ Following the dissolution of the State Union of Serbia and Montenegro on 3 June 2006, all Treaty actions undertaken by Serbia and Montenegro continue to be in force with respect to Republic of Serbia. Montenegro has informed that it wished to succeed to this treaty with effect from the same date, i.e. 3 June 2006.
- 11/ "disputes between the Parties concerning the interpretation and application of this international legal instrument must be settled through diplomatic negotiations. Cuba does not accept the compulsory jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice and thus, does not recognize its decisions, nor the arbitration envisaged in the Annex concerning settlement of disputes".
